STRUCTURE, GOVERNANCE AND MANAGEMENT

Governing document

The charity is constituted as a company limited by guarantee and is therefore governed by its articles of association. In July 2017, pursuant to Chapter 2 of Part 13 of the Companies Act 2006, the trustees of the Charity adopted by special resolution new articles of association of the charity in substitution for, and to the exclusion of, its pre-existing memorandum and articles of association. The preparation and adoption of this new governing document was necessary to reflect developments to the remit of IAHS Ltd, in particular the incorporation of the role and financial responsibilities of IAHS Inc, a not-for-profit registered in the United States that was wound up in December 2016, such that the International Association of Hydrological Sciences' funds are now all held and administered by IAHS Ltd. In addition, the articles of association were brought into line with current company law and the Charities Act 2011.

Appointment, induction and training of trustees

When there is a requirement for new trustees, these are identified and appointed by the remaining trustees. In 2017/early 2018, all but one of the charity trustees retired and were replaced by new trustees. This turn-over was planned. The charity trustees include the following officers of the Association's Bureau: President, Secretary General and Treasurer, the former two being elected positions. The induction of the new trustees involves making them aware of a trustee's responsibility, the governing document and administrative procedures of the charity.

Organisation

The charity is organised so that the trustees meet regularly to manage its affairs. A manager is appointed by the trustees to manage the day to day running of the charity.

Risk management

The trustees actively review the major risks which the charity faces on a regular basis and believe that maintaining reserves at current levels, combined with an annual review of the controls over key financial systems, will provide sufficient resources in the event of adverse conditions. The trustees have also examined other operational and business risks faced by the charity and confirm that they have established systems to mitigate the significant risks.

OBJECTIVES AND ACTIVITIES FOR THE PUBLIC BENEFIT

The charity's objectives are to advance education and research in hydrology for the public benefit and to publish the useful results of such research. A major activity continues to be the production and distribution of scientific journals. The charity supports the International Association of Hydrological Sciences (IAHS) by providing services for the membership, and supporting the IAHS Bureau in its endeavours. The trustees confirm that they have complied with the duty in Section 17 of the Charities Act 2011 to have due regard to public benefit guidance published by the Charity Commission.

ACHIEVEMENTS AND PERFORMANCE

IAHS Ltd supports the President, Secretary General and Treasurer of the International Association of Hydrological Sciences and the Association's Bureau activities, manages the Association's finances, and is responsible for the Association's website (www.iahs.info) that is the information hub for the Association and its 10 commissions, maintaining the IAHS membership database and sending information to members about IAHS activities and events via electronic alerts, newsletters, and social media. There were almost 7800 IAHS membership of the Association is free of charge.

In particular, IAHS Ltd provided assistance with arrangements for the IAHS Scientific Assembly held in Port Elizabeth, South Africa, in July 2017 (IAHS2017). IAHS sponsored a range of other events and IAHS Ltd promoted them, e.g. the Innovation in Hydrometry – from Ideas to Operation, a MOXXI and WMO HydoHub joint meeting held at WMO in Geneva, and the Second Panta Rhei International Conference in Gorgan, Iran. The IAHS officers and other Bureau members provided input to various initiatives such as the International Hydrological Programme of UNESCO.

Financial support of £22,000 was distributed to members from financially-disadvantaged countries to facilitate their travel to IAHS2017, including a grant of £8,000 made to WaterNet, a regional network of university departments and research and training institutes specialising in water in Southern Africa, to assist their postgraduates attending. WaterNet were able to support travel to IAHS2017 by 15 people. In addition, £11,000 was contributed to pay the IAHS2017 conference registration fees of these and other persons, and to finance the open access publication of their papers in the Proceedings of IAHS (PIAHS) volumes connected with the Assembly.

IAHS Ltd publishes the Hydrological Sciences Journal; the online journal is made available free of charge to libraries and IAHS members in financially disadvantaged countries. IAHS also publishes the proceedings of IAHS symposia and workshops in the online, open access PIAHS series. The IAHS2017 Scientific Assembly has generated three PIAHS volumes. The online library of IAHS publications, available free to view at the IAHS website, was expanded further with more volumes that previously were only available in print.

FINANCIAL REVIEW

The arrangement of the accompanying financial report has been adapted to reflect the re-organisation of the charity described above. A new expenditure heading, Charitable Activities has been introduced to cover the activities of the Association officers and Bureau, and cost of the website, and also grants and donations. Previously, officer and Bureau costs were paid by IAHS Inc.

IAHS Ltd's activities are now primarily funded by royalties from publishing Hydrological Sciences Journal, and the annual grant from the International Union of Geodesy and Geophysics (IUGG). The royalties grew in 2017 due to the increased size of the journal. The IAHS2017 Scientific Assembly in South Africa generated a surplus which the Local Organising Committee shared between IAHS, paying various IAHS expenses directly, and the South African national hydrology society. Reduced staffing due to illness and a delay in recruitment led to reduced salary costs in 2017 of £76,347, and the reserves stand at £357,828, as shown in the Statement of Financial Activities.

Reserves policy

IAHS Ltd has been building-up its reserves over the last few years. They now stand at £357,828, much of which is held in fixed-term deposit accounts for the purpose of enabling the activities of the charitable company to continue in the event of difficulties such as staff illness, increase in suppliers' prices, etc., and to provide funds for exceptional purchases. The charitable company will aim to maintain its reserves at approximately 100% of annual expenditure as this is considered to be a suitable level. As the reserves stand at more than 100% of annual expenditure, some capital could be used for travel grants and other expenditure supporting hydrologists from financially disadvantaged countries in 2018 and subsequent years.

PLANS FOR FUTURE PERIODS

The main activities will continue to be provision of support for IAHS members and officers, and IAHS publishing. A fund (SYSTA) is being set-up to enable financial awards to early career hydrological scientists in financially disadvantaged countries for travel/attendance at IAHS meetings. Typically, £25,000 will be allocated per year and any unspent funding will be carried over to the following year. In addition, in 2018 an £8,000 grant will again be made to WaterNet to support attendance by their post-graduates at hydrological meetings and conferences.

The next major IAHS meeting is at the IUGG General Assembly in Montreal in July 2019. It is planned that the travel award system will be fully operational in the second half of 2018 to allow processing of applications for funds to attend.

TRUSTEES' RESPONSIBILITIES IN RELATION TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The trustees are responsible for preparing the Trustees' Annual Report and the financial statements in accordance with applicable law and United Kingdom Accounting Standards (United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice).

In preparing these financial statements the trustees are required to:

- 1. select suitable accounting policies and apply them consistently:
- 2. observe the methods and principles in the Charities SORP (FRS 102);
- 3. make judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent;
- 4. state whether applicable UK Accounting Standards have been followed, subject to any material departures disclosed and explained in the financial statements.

The trustees are responsible for keeping proper accounting records which disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the charitable company and to enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Companies Act 2006. They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the charitable company and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

Independent examiner's statement

- 2. the accounts do not accord with those records; or
- 3. the accounts do not comply with the applicable requirements concerning the form and content of accounts set out in the Charities (Accounts and Reports) Regulations 2008 other than any requirement that the accounts give a 'true and fair view' which is not a matter considered as part of an independent examination.
