

2016 ICCE Report to IAHS Executive

Submitted on behalf of ICCE by Dr. Micheal Stone

The IAHS International Commission on Continental Erosion (ICCE) has been very active over the past year. The following is a list of current, completed or proposed activities.

Current or Completed Activities

- IUGG Prague– the following two well attended sessions were convened by ICCE on June 22 and 23, 2015
 1. HW10 *The Role of Sediment as an Indicator of Hydrological and Societal Change Convener: Micheal Stone (Waterloo, Canada) Co-conveners: Adrian Collins (Okehampton, U.K.), Paolo Porto (Reggio Calabria, Italy), Valentin Golosov (Moscow, Russia), Per Stålnacke (Ås, Norway)
 2. HW11 *Fingerprinting Techniques: Evaluating Methodological Approaches, Problems and Uncertainty Convener: Paolo Porto (Reggio Calabria, Italy) Co-conveners: Adrian Collins (Okehampton, U.K.), Allen Gellis (Baltimore, USA), Ian Foster (Northampton, U.K.)
- UNESCO International Sediment Initiative (ISI) planning meeting, Beijing, China, 24-28 May 2015, Des Walling and Valentin Golosov.
- Paulo Porto and Des Walling submitted a COST Action Proposal OC-2015-1-19486 'Generating Information to support improved Soil and Sediment Management'
- The ICCE Website (<http://www.icce.altervista.org/>) was updated to include a broader description of ICCE activities, events and publications.
- 2016 ICCE International Symposium "Integrating monitoring and modelling for understanding, predicting and managing sediment dynamics", convened by Dr Adrian Collins will be held at Rothamsted, UK July 11-15, 2016
- SEDNET 2015 – Special session on "The Impact of Fine Sediment on Stream Ecology" was convened by Dr Adrian Collins, September 2015

Proposed Activities

- A venue and focus of the 2018 ICCE International Symposium will be determined at the 2016 ICCE International Symposium In July at Rothamsted.
- ICCE is co-sponsoring "Human Impact on the Fluvial Processes of Eurasian Rivers" to be held in Poland, Fall 2016
